Domaine Lamy-Pillot

AOC Chassagne-Montrachet

Pot Bois

COUNTRY

France

VARIETAL

Chardonnay

SOIL TYPE

Thin and on a pebbly limestone with marls and sand on a Jurassic basis

VINEYARD

Located on a slope uphill from 1er Cru Les Cailleret, facing southeast and planted in 2001

HARVEST

Hand harvested in small crates to avoid premature squeeze during transportation and hand sorted

VINIFICATION

12 to 18 months (varies each vintages) in barrels with only 25% new oak, from different areas of France and Eastern Europe

TASTING NOTES

Great complexity and length. This Single Vineyard Pot Bois is elegant with subdued notes of white flowers, yellow fruit, acacia and vanilla. The aromas are reflected in the taste and the fine acids give a nice tension.

ABOUT THE WINEMAKER

Domaine Lamy-Pillot, founded in 1973 by René and Thérèse Lamy-Pillot in Morgeot, Chassagne-Montrachet, embodies the charm and diversity of Burgundy's family-run estates. Today, their daughters Florence and Karine, along with their husbands, Sébastien and Daniel, manage the domaine. Their style is defined by crisp, mineral-driven whites and structured, elegant reds. With careful vineyard practices, natural fertilizers, and minimal intervention in the cellar, the family favors used oak to highlight the purity of grape and terroir. The estate's jewel is a tiny 0.0542-hectare plot of Le Montrachet, yielding just 300 bottles a year from Burgundy's most prestigious terroir.
